Georgia Hayward is the General Manager of Outer Space, a non-for-profit contemporary arts organisation focusing on the professional development of emerging, early and mid-career artists. In addition, Georgia is also an Editor and Board Member for Runway Journal working collaboratively to cultivate and preserve experimental practices on digital platforms.

Vanessa Van Ooyen is the Director, Galleries and Museums at QUT and has worked as a curator for 25 years. Prior to joining QUT in 2010, she was Deputy Director, Institute of Modern Art (IMA). She has contributed to and managed numerous publications, served as a board member for not-for-profit organisations and provided expertise to government advisory boards.

Mike Mitchell is the Director of Mitchell Fine Art in Fortitude Valley, Brisbane. After operating galleries in both Darwin and Alice Springs in the Northern Territory for over 20 years he opened Mitchell Fine Art in 2015. He has a history of curating and presenting exhibitions around the world over the past 25 years.

Kellie O'Dempsey works across the arts and cultural sector as an independent practitioner. Delivering projects and programs in both regional and metropolitan areas from The National Gallery in Canberra to NorthSite Contemporary Arts in Far North Queensland Kellie's approach is diverse and engaging.

Joachim Froese is an Australian contemporary art photographer and educator who lives and works in Brisbane and Berlin. As an educator he has held regular academic appointments at universities in Australia and Germany. Teaching from a practitioner's point of view he enjoys sharing his technical and conceptual knowledge across a wide range of analogue and digital processes. He conducts workshops in photography that cater for beginners as well as advanced practitioners alike.

ARTISTS & ARTSWORKERS PROGRAMS

INTENSIVE PROGRAMS

Advance your career, develop new skills and create industry connections with an intensive workshop for artists and arts workers.
